MILITARY LORRIES AS BUSES.

LONDON, Feb. 9.
The Press Bureau states that the President of the Board of Trade and the Home Secretary informed a deputation from the Licensed Vehicle Workers Union on Saturday that until the dispute with the Underground Railways is settled, it would be impossible to say whether military lorries would continue to be used to convey the public or not.

TUBE STRIKE SETTLED.

LONDON, Feb. 8.
The agreement between the National Union of Railwaymen and the management of the underground railways came too late to permit the resumption of the Tubes to-day. The agreement provides that the Union shall nominate a man for each underground railway to co-operate with representatives of the companies in seeing that facilities are provided for the physical needs of the motormen, which will be included in the eight hours day.

CLYDE MEN DETERMINED.

An early settlement of the Clyde trouble is now regarded as doubtful. The strike committee state that the men are determined to remain out till their demands are accepted to.

ENGINEERS' STRIKE DRAGS.

Hunger is now entering as a factor of the strike of the 25,000 engineers etc., on the north-east coast for a forty-four hours week, which has lasted five weeks. The strikers' funds are low and there is much distress, especially among the dependent labourers. This strike is contrary to the advice of the London executive of the amalgamated engineers, who had agreed to give the forty-seven hours week a trial.

SOLDIERS' MISUNDERSTANDING.

LONDON, Feb. 8.
The Press Bureau issues a War Office statement explaining the misunderstanding which has arisen over the proposed leave for expired men in London totalling 11,000. Trains were provided for all, but the Tube strikers prevented the men from reaching their despatching points in proper time. Nine thousand were despatched before nine in the morning on Saturday. Afterwards 250 of the remainder, influenced by a few self-constituted leaders, marched to Whitehall, whence the guard marched them to Wellington Barracks pending entrainment. Nine of the ringleaders were arrested.

SUMMARY OF SITUATION.

LONDON, Feb. 9.
Everything was ready for the resumption of the running of the Tubes yesterday. The power-stations were working, but the strikers were apparently desirous of another day's holiday.

The national union of railwaymen's officials stated yesterday evening that meetings of various London centres decided almost unanimously to accept the agreement reached on Saturday morning.

Mr. Lloyd George arrived in London yesterday evening and went to Downing Street where he immediately investigated the strike trouble. It is expected he will take prompt steps to conciliate labour nationally.

The Clyde strike committee yesterday evening issued a manifesto to British labour declaring that a great unemployment crisis is imminent unless the unemployed are absorbed by means of shorter hours. It has decided to continue the forty hours movement and to organise meetings throughout the country.

Negotiations at Belfast were continued yesterday, and adjourned till Monday.

SWEDISH CURE FOR FLU.

LONDON, Feb. 8.
The noted Swedish physician Bjoernson claims that Spanish influenza is curable by exposing the patient's back to a strong electric heat and light appliance, followed by the application of heat-developing compresses, whereby intense perspiration is induced. He claims that his numerous patients were cured in from two to five days by this process.

U. S. LOAN TO BELGIUM.

LONDON, Feb. 8.
New York reports that an American syndicate which includes the Morgan interests has arranged a loan of $50,000,000 to Belgium.

PARIS CONFERENCE.

TO BAR SUBMARINES.

LONDON, Feb. 8.
With reference to the suggestion for the abolition of submarines which has been before the Paris Conference, Reuter learns on high authority that the British admiralty strongly favours the total prohibition of submarine building and the use of the submarine in warfare. This, naturally, would have to be subject to general international agreement, and have rigid guarantees and safeguards. This attitude of the British Navy has all the more point in view of the fact that Britain is far ahead of all other nations in regard to actual possession of submarines and their potential production.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

LONDON, Feb. 8.
A communique from Paris says the Commission on the League of Nations had a meeting this morning which was marked by the same accord of views that has characterised previous sessions. At the end of the meeting the Commission finds itself nearing the end of its task. Only a few articles in draft remain to be formally presented to members of the Commission for discussion.

ARMISTICE RENEWAL.

LONDON, Feb. 8.
The Supreme War Council resumed its discussion of the terms for a renewal of the armistice. The following resolution proposed by President Wilson was approved: "Under present conditions, many questions not primarily of military character are arising daily. They are bound to become of increasing importance as time passes, and should be dealt with on behalf of the United States and the Allies by such civilian representatives of these Governments as are experienced in such questions, as finance, food, blockade, control of shipping and raw materials. To establish these shall be constituted at Paris a supreme economic council to deal with such matters for the period of the armistice. The council shall absorb or replace such other existing inter-allied bodies and their powers as may be determined from time to time. The economic council shall consist of not more than five representatives from each interested Government."

GERMANY.

LONDON, Feb. 8.
A Copenhagen message from Weimar says Doctor David, the Majority Socialist and ex-Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, has been elected president of the National Assembly almost unanimously.

CIVIL WAR, STRIKES AND ULTIMATUMS.

LONDON, Feb. 8.
Berlin says that reports of disturbances come from all parts of Germany. Civil war continues at Dusseldorf, and to some extent at Hamburg.

The Soviets seized the telephones and telegraphs at Luebeck with the object of interfering with government communications, but this object was unattained owing to state officials immediately striking a policy which is proving effective in various parts of the country against Spartacist usurpation.

The Spartacists are still agitating against the National Assembly, which is receiving "ultimatums" from many parts of Germany. For example, the soviet at Gotha sent an ultimatum that unless the guards were withdrawn from Weimar, a general strike would be proclaimed at Thuringen.

It is hoped in Berlin that the Centrists will participate in the new national government, thus greatly strengthening it.

OVERSEAS TEACHERS.

LONDON, Feb. 8.
Prince Arthur of Connaught opened a conference of the Imperial Union of Teachers convened by the League of Empire for overseas soldier teachers at the marble hall of the India Office, at which 600 were present. The Prince said he hoped before they returned home they would see as much as possible of the motherland. A message was read from Queen Alexandra, which incidentally mentioned that the League of Empire is establishing residential headquarters in London for overseas teachers. Sir Cyril Cobb suggested interchanges of teachers between Britain and the Dominions.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF "VAS."

LONDON, Feb. 2.
(Delayed)

The commission on international labour legislation held its first meeting at the French Ministry of Labour. M. Collard, the French Minister of Labour, in welcoming the delegation, said the peace treaty would guarantee the dignity and liberty of human labour by an international convention. No reply has yet been received from the Bolsheviks to the offer to include their representatives in the conference on Russian affairs at Prinkipo.

The official Socialist paper at Paris having asked leave, to transmit a message to the Bolsheviks by Government wire, this was not authorized.

Yesterday at the Labour Conference at Paris, Mr. Samuel Gompers stated the American delegates had decided not to take part in the international conference at Berne. A similar decision was announced on behalf of the Belgians.

Count Bratianu, the Rumanian Premier, held a conference with M. Clemenceau yesterday, and later visited Mr. Balfour and had a long conversation. On the Paris Bourse, the week ended well with considerable activity in French rentes, and a firm tone in all markets, especially French industrial.

LONDON, February 3.
(delayed).

It is hoped that the constitution of the League of Nations will be definitely drawn up this week, including the abolition of the submarine as a vessel of war, and the recommendation that the economic weapon shall take the place of armed force.

Regarding disarmament, the League endeavours to work out a scheme by which the armaments of all nations are to be curtailed to the point decided upon as necessary for defence.

German ships handed over under the recent armistice terms will not be returned. The principle of ton for ton will be rigorously applied.

It does not appear that Australia is yet a supporter of the mandatory system. The general opinion is that Mr. Lloyd George has succeeded in establishing an excellent formula under which Dominion control will be practically absolute.

Speaking at the banquet held in Paris last evening by the Republican Journalists' Association, M. Poincare paid a warm tribute to the conduct of the French Press during the war, maintaining its confidence through out the darkest hours.

An addition to the members of the commission on international labour is Mr. Otchisi, appointed for Japan.

Xavier Leroux has died in Paris. He was a pupil of Massenet, on whose style his own was modelled.

Several measures are to be taken by the French Government against food speculators who are to be tried by court martial.

The control of the French railways will be restored to the railway companies on February 10.

LONDON, Feb. 7.

The Persian delegates to the Paris Conference arrived at Marseilles to-day.

Prince Trafoif, the delegate of the Siamese government, is expected at Marseilles to-day.

M. Tardieu has made interesting statements concerning the blockade question. He desires to give the greatest possible freedom to neutral states to import what they need, but only on condition of an absolute guarantee that no re-exportation into Germany should take place.

France took a decided attitude as to the prohibition of importation of raw materials into Germany. If Germany were now awarded freedom to import raw material, the French factories destroyed by war would be for the second time destroyed by peace. On the question of the non-importation of raw material into Germany, France and the Allied Powers are unanimous.

A general agreement has been concluded between the great Powers on all the main points, including the big question of the territorial claims by France and Italy.

President Wilson hopes the convention will be complete before he leaves on February 13, the framework of the League established, leaving only details and rules to be settled afterwards.

The Bolsheviks reply that they accept the principle of Allied intervention in the Russian and Archangel districts, the Ukraine, and Omsk Government's promise to respect foreign loans and industries. Opinion in French circles is that this reply has cleared the atmosphere but there is the possibility that it is merely a bluff.

AMERICANS AND SALUTES.

Here is a routine order issued to an American Aviation School which will surprise those who have thought that democratic Americans would drop the salutes which are so much a part of military grace and dignity.
Uncle Sam and his boys have more sense.

"RIGHT HAND SALUTE! TWO!"
When you see a fellow in the uniform of the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, who, upon passing an officer, either salutes in a hang dog manner or else pretends to be too much occupied with something else to salute at all, don't mistake him for a real soldier or sailor. He's but a person in uniform who thinks he is something that he is not.

When you see a fellow in uniform,
who, upon passing an officer, snaps his hand to his cap and at the same time looks directly at the officer with a "Good morning fellow" soldier's manner, you may put that fellow down as a real soldier or sailor who respects his own uniform, respects himself and respects the officer's uniform.

If you see an officer return a salute in a contemptuous or slurring manner, you will make no mistake in putting him down as one who has yet to learn the business of an officer.
Your good and efficient officer considers it a privilege to answer in kind the military greeting of a real soldier, or sailor.

The salute is as much a sign of the snappy salute that passes be-

A WINTER AILMENT.

The Time When Rheumatism Returns.

This is the season when stiffness in the joints, and sharp twinges of pain in the muscles of the arms, legs or back, give warning to many people that rheumatism has not been dispelled from their system. Damp or cold days excite the old trouble and make existence miserable.

There are almost as many ways of treating rheumatism as there are doctors. Most of these treatments are directed only at the symptoms, and are reckoned good enough if they relieve the pain and stiffness for a time, but they fail to get at the cause of the trouble, and so the rheumatism returns after exposure to damp or cold.

This is because rheumatism is usually associated with the blood, and it cannot be corrected until the blood is built up and able to throw off the poisons of the disease.

The most direct treatment for rheumatism is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, because they enrich the blood, making it pure and red. By this method the system is strengthened, the poisons are dispelled, and the patient is far less likely to suffer from further attacks.

For men and women alike, Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills for pale people are a valuable tonic and health builder.
They are sold by dealers everywhere,
also one bottle for $1.50, six for $8.00,
by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 98
Nassau Street, New York. The price includes postage.

The China Mail.

HONGKONG, MONDAY, Feb. 10, 1919.

THE CHINESE AND THE JOCKEY CLUB.

This is one of those controversies that hardly ever get discussed in a spirit of sweet reasonableness. On the one hand we have the insiders, quite satisfied, quite assured of their position, regarding the new move, as a presumptuous innovation, and somewhat indignantly taking their stand on the position that such questions "should not have been addressed to the Committee of any private Club." They ignore the one strong point that the Chinese make (which leaves open for debate the point whether the Jockey Club is really and truly a "private" club), and "decline to reply."

On the other hand we have the outsiders, apparently anxious to force themselves in, in spite of the fact that they are clearly not welcome, and full of the conviction that they are as good as anybody else, and better. Do they not pay four-fifths of the rates and taxes? Are they not British subjects? In short, we are reminded of Shylock's memorable argument, "Hath not a Jew eyes?" etc.

If you prick us, do we not bleed? If you tickle us, do we not laugh? If you hurt us, do we not die?

In this matter of the Chinese desire to be admitted to membership of the Hongkong Jockey Club, we think it would have been wiser of the Committee to come down from their high horse, and to say plainly (if such be their policy) that Chinese as Chinese are barred. There could have been no harm in this. The position would have been made quite plain, and the Chinese could then have devoted their energies to getting that one issue settled—if, indeed, there be any chance of Government intervention, which to us seems unlikely.

Here are some general considerations relevant to the question. It does not follow that because they object to Chinese as fellow members, the members of the Race Club have a "bad" opinion of Chinese.

There are lots of philosophic men who abhor race prejudice, of religious men who believe that under God all men are children of one family, that (as Confucius said) "all within the four seas are brethren."

But this does not mean that any man of such convictions is obliged forthwith to marry his daughter to a Chinese, or to share his Club with a Hottentot, or to spend all his leisure and play all his golf with an Indian.

The whole Club business is very much misunderstood in some quarters. Accusations of snobbery are launched where they are not justified. It is natural that men of kindred tastes should want to get together, and keep together, unembarrassed by the intrusion of men who are ungentlemanly. This is all that "black-balling" means, or all that it should mean. It would be right, for instance, for rich men to start an exclusive club for rich men. Why should they be embarrassed by the presence of poorer men unable to "go the pace"? It would be uncomfortable for both. Apart altogether from race prejudice, and without reference to the war, what decent Englishman would care to have a German join his Tiffin Club, so long as the German devours his soup in the offensively noisy way that he has? So far, the argument is all in favour of the sanctity of the prejudices of the insider belonging to a private Club.

But now arises the question whether the Hongkong Jockey Club has the right to regard itself as a private institution? That is a shrewd question which the Chinese have raised with regard to the terms upon which the Jockey Club secured its land. The Government, which accepts four-fifths of its revenue from Chinese, has no right at any time, legal or moral, to segregate large areas of our restricted superfluous for the exclusive use of a minority of its constituents. Horse racing is not a private business. It is, presumably, a means of public recreation which the Government approves, which we have to depend on Shanghai for jockeys, our race club is manifestly missing its chief reason for existence, unless, of course, we admit at once that it is merely an excuse for lawful gambling. But this brings us back to the point raised by the Chinese. They will probably be told that the Jockey Club got its concession of land when the Colony was much younger, when the community was smaller, and when there was a real need for its beautiful opportunities for the men who were then laying the foundations of our Colony. They will be told that a fact accomplished is a master-deed, and that there is no remedy except for them to form their own Race Club and to apply to the Government for land on which to operate it, which application (they will also probably be informed) will be favourably considered. And that is all that is likely to happen.

Without greater knowledge of all the circumstances, we are not prepared to say outright that the local terms for settlements on Crown lands are too harsh. Frankly, we would be glad to know more about this matter, as the conditions of land disposal are an important indication of the quality of any Government.

We cannot expect to see here, perhaps, terms like those in more extensive countries, such as Australia and America; but it seems to us that no one will dispute the general proposition that they should be fair. Perhaps some well-informed reader of the "China Mail" will let us have the benefit of his knowledge. Our attention has been drawn to the matter by a notification in the last "Government Gazette," concerning the lease for 75 years of two and a half acres of agricultural land at Castle Peak. The upset price is only $25, and the annual rent $1 for the first three years and $2.50 thereafter, which seems very cheap. But the rent is "subject to re-assessment," and we should like to know if this means that the tenant is ever unfairly taxed for working hard to improve Crown property. Then there is the condition as to building. The tenant may only erect such a building as "in the opinion of the Land Officer" is necessary for the proper occupation of the lot as agricultural land. Suppose a white man with a craze for gardening, a love for the climate, and some small savings, were to take this land, he would be allowed to erect a decent cottage? We observe that for the land on which such buildings stand he is required to pay additional premium, and Crown Rent at a rate which shall then be in force. He has to construct bunds within three years "in such manner and of such material as the Director of Public Works may approve, and maintain same to the satisfaction of the Land Officer." Within three years he must also have reclaimed and converted the land into agricultural land to the satisfaction of the same officer. He must not afterwards, for five years, let his land rest "fallow." He has no right to any neighbouring water—must not divert any creek or stream on his lot (a thing often desirable)—and above all, he, the purchaser, "shall have no right to any water flowing through any portion of the lot." He is also responsible for any scouring of the banks of the creek near his lot, by water to which he has no right. At first sight, all this seems to us very like "heads we win, tails you lose." Is it as unreasonable as it looks?

RUSSIAN MUSIC.

The audience that gathered on Saturday night for the farewell concert of Sklarevski and Sykora was not very large, but it was very sympathetic and appreciative. The pianist Sklarevski in his opening interpretation of Schumann (Carnival F. op. 9) exhibited a remarkable memory, playing over 20 selections correctly and with magnificent technique.

Being encored he appeared to play an improvisation of his own, or perhaps a medley of dreams. Repeated applause marked this turn. Sykora and his "cello" then followed, to play a concerto by Volkmann, with cadenza and finale by Klengel. The audience insisted upon more, and had a melancholy melody. For his next, contributions from Bruch and Klengel, Sykora was again encored, and gave an intricate melody full of graceful turns, and involving very clever fingering. The pianist closed the concert with some Balakirev and Liszt. The Russian piece, was particularly dainty. The two examples of Liszt were highly enjoyed. The XV rhapsody giving the pianist every chance to show his technical command and power. In reply to insistent encores, he gave two extra pieces, the second a weird thing suggestive of Rachmaninoff.

CRAIGENGOWER'S FAILURE.

There was only one league match on Saturday, two games, K.C.C. and Civil Service, and University v. R.E. being postponed on account of the funeral of Dr. H. Macfarlane.

The league match played was between the league leaders, R.G.A. and Craigengower. At two stages of the match there was a doubt of the R.G.A. winning but their innings of 109 was too great a task for Craigengower who are usually good for 80, and this was the total of their innings on Saturday.

In a friendly at Kowloon there was a draw between K.C.C. and H.K.C.C., and a similar result was arrived at in the match between the Navy and the Indian R.C.

LEAGUE MATCH.

R.G.A. DEFEAT CRAIGENGOWER.

On the Craigengower ground, this match attracted keen interest. The R.G.A. batted first and sent in Mann and Graham to bat. The latter was playing his last game in Hongkong and is at this moment on his way to England.

The R.G.A. started very badly, the fast, straight stuff of Omar being beaten by Omar with scoring 0-10, appearing on the scoring board. Talford followed and was out of luck, scoring a single; his dismissal was brought about by Omar, 2-2-1, very poor indeed. Mann and Drummond put a better complexion on the situation, but a change of bowling was the downfall of Mann, Grimmett bowling and Ford nearly "stumping" the batsman. Sharman, Torr and Sutherland were all clean bowled, the latter in rather un- warranted efforts to slog the bowling, with which no liberties could be taken. Colman and Green played carefully and their scores were "invaluable." Middleton and Baines added runs, the innings closing when Abbas bowled Baines who played on to his wicket, the total being 109.

With experience of Craigengower's batting capacity 109 looked rather beyond their power. Basa and Arculli started and runs came early but Arculli soon returned to the pavilion, 12-1-14. Grimmett followed and after Basa had added 2 to the score Grimmett departed. Altogether 4 fell with the score at 14. Grimmett, Omar, Basa and Rumjahn. Basa had poked and scraped a long time for his 10 but was justified as the bowling demanded much respect. Thompson demanded much respect, all his runs were "snicks" behind the wicket. Seven wickets were down for 26, very easy win for the gunners. It looked, but Lammet and Manley looked, the rot for a while and stopped a good number to the score. Lammet gave Graham a chance in the slips and being let off signalled the event by 2 boundary hits. A little later he gave another chance of Baines, Graham having a "dolly" catch in the slips only to drop it again. With this luck Lammet progressed to punish the bowling and then Manley departed; wicket upset by Graham. Goldenberg was the last man and hope and this pair made the best partnership. Runs were steadily piled up, Lammet hitting all loose balls to the boundary. His run of luck was good, for Middleton was the next to drop a catch, a fairly easy one, not very deep in the long field. After his third "life" Lammet made more runs but with the score at 80 and his own first half that he put his leg in front of one from Graham, and Umpire Bradbury signalled him out. The R.G.A. thus won by 29 runs, Details:—

FOOTBALL.

NAVY WIN: CLUB L. SE.

ANOTHER "INCIDENT."

To the football community the matches were important on Saturday as both the Club and the Navy had engagements in connection with the Hongkong League, and only these two teams have any chance of annexing the trophy.

As it happened the Club lost two points they can ill afford to lose, and the Engineers did the Navy a good service. Goals were very scarce, only one resulted as the result of the 70 minutes play, but the Soldiers were very close on several occasions, and the Club goal was rather lucky to have only one registered. Reichelmann on whom the Club depend for goals in about the same degree as the Navy relies upon McNiven, had very watchful opponents in Charters and Blumfield, the former playing in his last match in the Colony.

This result jeopardises the Club's prospects as they now hold a lead of a bare point, and they have played a match more than the Navy. The Club fixtures in this league are complete excepting a match with the Navy, and on this game the destination of the League Cup will depend.

On the Naval ground the sailors won easily and a real good game was spoilt by one of those regrettable incidents which it must be admitted are no longer an exception in local football. The Navy had a lead of 4-1 when McNiven and Leung Yuk Fong came to words and threatened to exchange blows. More sensible players of both sides parted the would-be opponents of the boxing code, but a few minutes later the same two were at it again, this time some real punching taking place. Play was soon resumed, the referee having no alternative to ordering the pair off the field. Sgt. Major Pragnell is to be sympathised with. It must be the third or fourth time he has had these bad displays occur in his matches.

In the 2nd Division the Kowloon team easily disposed of the South China Reserves.

Reports of the play follow:

HONGKONG LEAGUE.

H.K.F.C. v. ROYAL ENGINEERS.

Points being valuable to the Club, they set about scoring the necessary goals early in this match. Lawrence and Blumfield were soon hard pressed, Reichelmann and McTavish making play on the right wing, Taylor at outside right being mostly pitted with passes. Here Heath was very keeping this speedy youngster from scoring on his own, and was very successful. Townsend and Pascall were the dangerous forwards for the R.E. and they gave Black and Chasels some difficult work. The two centre half backs were very prominent, Stewart and Charters each playing a fine spilling game. Neither goalkeepers had much to do, but Rodger had to be smart to get away a centre from Pascall, and to save from Millard. Riis and McTavish each tried a shot at goal, and Reichelmann was shaping for a shot when Blumfield headed into him anyhow. At half time nothing had been scored.

Having survived the first half the R.E.'s began to entertain prospects of a win. Cheered on by two score lusty throated supporters, they hammered away at the Club goal to some purpose. Several times the Club goal was in jeopardy, Rodger saving on many occasions. Black, Chasels and Stewart were in the thick of it, and after kicking and tackling for quite a spell play veered to the R.E. end. Here Lawrence kicked hard but high, and McTavish put Taylor away. Reichelmann secured when the ball came across but he was well marked, and bundled out of possession. Again the R.E. attacked and this time with success. In a fierce rush on the Club goal Pascall got his head to the ball. It was sufficient as Rodger had to take the ball out of the rigging and that goal gave the R.E. the points. Matters were serious for the Club now, their lead in the Hongkong League was shaky if the Navy were winning (as they were), and the Club made vigorous efforts to score. Riis played strongly on the left but Jennings did not work well with him, consequently Reichelmann got few chances in the centre. Once he shot hard and Betts must have been relieved to know it was a trifle wide. The R.E.'s were not by any means done with and before the end threatened the Club goal again. Their one goal was the only one scored however, this giving them the brace of points. Result: R.E. 1, H.K.F.C. 0.

Teams: H.K.F.C.—Rodger; Black, Chasels, Hamilton, Stewart, Carrier, Taylor, McTavish, Reichelmann, Riis, Jennings. Royal Engineers—Betts; Blumfield, Lawrence; Smith, Charters, Heath, Millard, Connell, Jarvis, Townsend, Pascall. Referee, Mr. Tucker.

NAVY v. SOUTH CHINA ATH.

For a long time this game was all that could be expected of local football nowadays. Play was keen and interesting to watch and goals came at fairly frequent intervals. The Navy soon received encouragement, their first goal coming early, Neal being the marksman. A second goal followed, irrepressible McNiven scoring this. There was plenty of excitement hereabouts, Tin Koon Shan and Au Kit Sang passing and making speedy rushes on the Navy goal. Warren and Crocker came in for plenty of work, the former taking the ball from Wong Pak Chung at a critical time. When next the Navy paid a visit to the Chinese goal a penalty was awarded. This gift-god chance was not accepted by McNiven who kicked mildly past. Then the Chinese scored a lucky goal, Tin Koon Shan shooting in and Crocker in saving was alleged to have crossed the goal line with the ball, and the referee awarded a goal for this the Navy custodian disputing. Then came the interval, but not before Capewell had scored another goal for the Navy, who changed ends leading by 3 goals to 1.

In the second half the two points were never in much danger, although the Navy always had to keep up to the mark to deal with the clever Chinese forwards. Later the Navy went further ahead, Warren getting his instep behind the ball and propelled it goalwards, the Chinese custodian failing to impede its progress. Then occurred a little fracas between McNiven and Leung Yuk Fong which was smoothed over. But only temporarily for while play was in mid-field the same two were seen engaged in fistfights, at least McNiven was doing the punching and the Chinese defending himself. There was the usual crowd swarming on the field, the usual ordering of the two exponents of the noble art of self defence (in the wrong place and at the wrong time), and play resumed disappointed and spoilt. Fortunately the whistle sounded time soon after. Result: Navy, 4; South China Ath., 1.

Teams: Navy—Crocker; Parker, Warren; Lawson, Smith, Biggs; Travis, Warren, Neal, McNiven, Capewell.

South China Athletic—Lau Hing Cheong; Fung Tai, Cheung Wing Hon; Chan So, Leung Yuk Fong, Leung Tai Fong; Ko Sik Wai, Kwok Po Kan, Wong Pak Chung, Tin Koon Shan, Au Kit Sang.

Col. Sgt. Major Pragnell was the referee.

KOWLOON v. SOUTH CHINA RESERVES.

In this match on the Navy ground, the Chinese were no match for the Kowloon team. In every department, Kowloon were the best, their forwards quickly getting into their stride, Rasmussen scoring the goal for them. After a brief visit to Kowloon's goal, the Chinese were forced to defend again, and following good play by White, Rasmussen scored again. Before the interval Kowloon scored again, Hyder scoring the point. With a three goals lead Kowloon started the second half with confidence, Knight and White taking play to the Chinese end. The Chinese left back defended finely and repulsed the Kowloon forwards frequently, but finally Wheeler scored the fourth for Kowloon. Jackson was hurt and went into the Kowloon goal. There was no further scoring. Result: Kowloon, 4; South China Res., 0. Mr. Dewhurst, refereed.

Teams: Kowloon, 4; South China Res., 0. Mr. Dewhurst, refereed.

ANOTHER ARMED ROBBERY.

SHOP IN CENTRAL DISTRICT RAIDED.

Another robbery of exceptional daring was perpetrated last night, as a result of which an opium dealer's shop at 13, Wellington Street, suffered a loss of $335 representing money and opium stolen.

The shop which the robbers entered is within view of the "China Mail" office. A few minutes past ten, last night, the foks were closing the shop for the day. The events which followed indicate that the robbers were working on a prearranged plan.

At that hour the street at this place is usually quiet and in darkness, and in these circumstances the robbers were able to go about their work without attracting attention.

To the number of seven men, they gathered quietly in the street, and one of them entered and asked to buy some opium. As soon as the opium was produced, he brought out his revolver and levelled it at the master of the shop. The other robbers at this moment rushed in. Closing the door, so as to prevent outside observation, they held up the people of the shop. One robber produced a quantity of pepper and threw it into the master's eyes. Being thus blinded, he went to a backroom and hid between the blankets of his bed. In the drawer of the counter there were some pots of opium and these with other stores in other parts of the shop, which were worth about $200, the robbers stole. They added to their haul a further $135 in cash, which was found in a drawer. The robbers stayed in the place for about 15 minutes, at the end of which they made off up the street, turned round Flower Street, and ran past the Hongkong Hotel. The people of the shop blew their whistles as soon as the robbers left, and some ran after them. A Chinese constable, and also as European constable joined in the pursuit, which was hotly maintained until "the desperadoes" reached Queen's Road. Queen's Road at this part was in considerable darkness, from "the" Hongkong Hotel to the Astor House, and to this circumstance the robbers owed their escape. They disappeared into the gloom, and, escaped in the direction of Wanchai. It is believed that they took riches.

The robbers turned on their pursuers in Queen's Road, and fired several shots at them, which passed over their heads.

COMFORTS FOR REFUGEES.

Regarding the recent appeal for funds for fitting work-bags to be sent to the British Red Cross at Vladivostok, to be distributed amongst the Refugee women, Mrs. Stabb reports that 209 bags have already been sent, with 2 cases and 1 bale of material. These have been consigned to the American Red Cross in Shanghai, through the kind help of the American Red Cross in Hongkong, and it is hoped that they will be taken straight through and be ready for distribution about the middle of the month. This is very quick work, and thanks are due to all those who set to work and made and filled the bags at such short notice, and to those who gave donations, whose names appear below.

It is hoped to bring the number of bags up to 500 next week $300.00 more is wanted—Mrs. Stabb will be very glad to receive any contributions. The bags cost $1 each, and contain—

Scissors, Thimble, 1 large bundle white tape, 1 pkt. needles, 1 paper pins, 6 reels cotton black and white, 1 card hooks and eyes, about 5 dozen assorted buttons.

Donations have been received from—Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Taggart, Mrs. Chatham, Mrs. Bowley, Miss Wallace, Miss Burgi, Mrs. Lang, Mrs. Holloway, Mrs. Bevington, Mrs. Scott Harston, Mrs. H. Hancock Mr. C. Thorne, Mrs. Dodwell, Mesdames Oxberry, Gill, Aitken, Sifford, and Kennedy, Miss Square, Mesdames Nicholl, Moses, Goldenberg, and Miss M. Goldenberg. $50.00 was also received at Government House, on Jan. 20, but it was not found possible to take all the names.

Dr. C. W. McKenny is acting Principal Civil Medical Officer, in place of the late Dr. H. Macfarlane.

The trial of two Chinese arrested in connection with the recent robbery in the Compradore's department of Messrs. Gibb Livingston & Co., began in Mr. Wood's Court this afternoon.

Passing through on the way to Singapore is Lieut. Colonel J. G. Constable, Army Pay Department, to take up Command Paymaster, Straits Settlements command, Major G. W. W. Tressider, R.G.A., and about a dozen other officers. Major Tressider was here six years ago. He has seen a lot of service in the present war, and is the wearer of an Italian decoration. The party was held up in America, for two months before getting onward passage. They have another stay here while awaiting a ship to the Straits.

The funeral of the late Dr. Harold Macfarlane, Acting Principal Civil Medical Officer and Government Bacteriologist whose death, as recorded in Saturday's issue of the "China Mail" occurred at his residence in Kowloon on Friday, took place at the Protestant Cemetery on Saturday afternoon. The large gathering of friends and colleagues of all nationalities which attended to pay its last tribute to the deceased, gave ample evidence of the popularity Dr. Macfarlane enjoyed in the Colony. The cortege which was followed by a large concourse of people which included the ward attendants, maroon, sisters and staff of the Government Civil Hospital, passed the monument at 5 p.m. and was there joined by a host of mourners, including many Chinese. The coffin which was covered with the Union Jack and on which rested a wreath sent by the widow, was borne to the graveside by six of the deceased's colleagues. The Rev. H. (Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

DISCONTENTED PROLETARIAT STRIKE NIPPED IN THE BUD!

The Amalgamated Society of Engineers' suspension of the London Committee results in the machinery of the threatened strike to-day being handed over to the shop stewards, whose influence with the rank and file will be tested by the strength of the strike movement.

THE SITUATION IN LONDON.

London, February 9th.
The situation in London last evening was that six tubes and the district railway, and one suburban tramway service were stopped.

One tube and the Metropolitan railway, two over-head electric railways and all the Council tramways were working.

SITUATION AT BELFAST.

London, February 9th.
The easier situation in Belfast is evidenced by the fact that the strikers' Committee sent a deputation to Lord Pirrie which he consented to receive to-day while a meeting of piece-work boiler-makers, shipwrights, and blacksmiths, yesterday, revoked the resolution passed last week demanding an immediate advance of 30 per cent. on the piece rates.

This simplifies to-day's negotiations, because only the hours question is now in dispute.

London, February 9th.
The Controller of Merchant Shipping Construction, Lord Pirrie, met the Belfast Strike Committee, and stipulated for the immediate restoration of the public service—tramways, gas, and electricity. He suggested the immediate resumption of work, pending a settlement, upon the condition that the men worked in a 40-hour week, with the proviso that they will be paid additionally for the time worked over 40 hours.

Lord Pirrie proposed the resumption of the meeting on February 9th, if the men agreed, and, subsequently, the men notified that they would meet Lord Pirrie on February 9th. Consequently, he assumes that the men agree to his conditions.

Meanwhile, Belfast is still in darkness to-night.

London, February 9th.
Discontent in spreading amongst the Belfast strikers, owing to the failure of the leaders to effect a settlement, but the fact that Lord Pirrie remains in Belfast, ready to confer with the men's delegates, as Controller General of Merchant Shipping, is regarded as hopeful.

London, February 9th.
A sensation was caused in Belfast, when it became known that the Magistrate had issued warrants for the arrest of the chief strike leaders on a charge of conspiracy to prejudice and injure public safety.

Warrants for the arrest of the majority of the Belfast strike leaders have been issued.

London, February 9th.
The Assistant Commissioner of Police in Belfast denies that warrants have been issued for the arrest of the strike leaders.

Lord Pirrie presided at a conference of the representatives of the Strike Committee and the firms of Messrs. Harland and Wolff and Messrs. Workman and Clark, with a view to ending the strike.

The Conference lasted six hours and adjourned until to-morrow. It is believed that a settlement is likely.

London, February 9th.
There was little change in the majority of the Clyde shipyard yesterday, but some 50 to 60 per cent. of the men in the various engineering works have resumed work, while a meeting of the shipyard men passed a resolution endorsing the present strike methods, and deciding to resume to-day, relying on the Trade Union leaders to secure their demands constitutionally.

WHO CAUSED THE STRIKES?

One speaker expressed the opinion that the trouble was largely due to inefficient workmen.

London, February 9th.
Though a few more engineers resumed work on the Clyde yesterday, the shipyard men are still idle. Three meetings of boiler-makers, blacksmiths, and shipwrights, in various Clyde towns, resolved to remain on strike for a 40-hour week.

There will be a Conference of National Delegates at Glasgow, on Saturday, to review the forty-hour movement in England and Scotland, and to decide the course of action.

London, February 9th.
The strikes in Belfast and on the Clyde appear to be nearing their end.

London, February 9th.
The strike leaders talk of extending the strike all over Scotland, but events in England and the effect of Government action may cause a change of policy.

London, February 9th.
Mass meetings at Glasgow, Govan, and the Clyde Bank resolved to continue the strike for a 40-hour week, and called on the Executive Councils to co-operate with the strikers, or resign.

The Strikers' Joint Committee issued a militant statement, claiming that only a few faint-hearted returned to work and asserting that the Committee is more confident than ever of victory, and alleging that the Glasgow carpenters and joiners have decided to strike.

The Municipal employees have decided not to strike.

The Scottish miners have all resumed work, pending the result of the Conference of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain at Southampton on February 12th, to receive the Government's reply to the demands for a 30 per cent. advance of wages, a six-hour day, nationalisation of the mines, and full wages for the demobilised and unemployed miners.

London, February 9th.
The situation in Glasgow remains unchanged materially.

London, February 9th.
The Glasgow bakers are expected to cease work on February 10th, upon the expiration of the strike notice, for a 40-hour week.

STRIKERS MUST NOT DARKEN LONDON.

London, February 9th.
The situation as regards the London Underground railways remains unchanged. Hundreds of thousands of workers, both male and female, were again compelled to trudge home to-night in sleet and snow.

It is understood that the Government to-day arranged to provide the railways with Army engineers capable of driving locomotives should the threatened strike of locomotive engineers materialise.

The Government have also taken steps to deal with the threat of the London electrical engineers to plunge the Metropolitan into darkness.

The new Defence of the Realm Regulation, which is intended to protect the supply of light, if this does not suffice, other steps will doubtless be taken.

The new Defence of the Realm Regulation, referred to, makes a breach of contract of service or interfering with the electricity supply liable to six months' imprisonment or £100 fine.

London, February 9th.
Waiters and cooks of several West End restaurants and hotels continue striking for an eight-hour day, and the abolition of the system of pooling tips.

London, February 9th.
The strike situation in London has become very much worse with the calling out of the locomotive engineers.

The South Western Railway is practically at a standstill, whilst the London-Brighton and the South Coast Railways are utterly disorganised.

These railways serve the most populous suburbs in Greater London, and since the tube strike, they constituted the only way by which hundreds of thousands reached their business places in the Metropolis.

The cause of this strike is the interpretation of the eight-hour day agreement. The Union claims that meal times were intended to be included, and the Government deny this.

Only a proportion of the engine-drivers are members of the Locomotive Engineers' Union. The remainder, who belong to the Railwaymen's Union, have, up to the present, not struck.

London, February 9th.
The London Electrical Trades Union has called out its men for to-night, but it is not believed that the effects of this strike will be so serious, as the Union threatened.

The various Companies supplying London with electricity hope to be able to carry on, at least partially.

London, February 9th.
The situation in the tubes, and in Belfast and Glasgow, is unchanged.

POSTAL WORKERS AFFECTED.

London, February 9th.
Addressing a large meeting of postal workers in London this afternoon, at which resolutions favouring shorter hours, higher wages, and full civil rights were adopted, Mr. R. H. Clynes emphasised the desirability of formulating and discussing all demands before striking, in order to keep the sympathy of the public.

He declared that a far higher standard of living must be obtained before there could be peace in Great Britain, but these things could not be settled by mob law. The workers' wishes must be translated by trusted delegates.

London, February 9th.
The drivers belonging to the Locomotive Engineers' Union were called out last evening at New Cross and Battersea.

The Brighton-Eastbourne goods train was consequently held up. It is feared that passenger traffic may be interrupted, though it is understood that the Government contemplates putting the military in control of the services.

The Police Commissioner conferred with the Home Office officials last evening.

London, February 9th.
The unions involved in the London strikes are endeavouring to secure the stoppage on trams and buses in the event of a strike by the men employed in the power stations.

The position last evening was described as delicate.

At a meeting of the Woolwich Arsenal Engineers last evening, as the result of a ballot among members, it was announced that 2,310 were in favour of remaining at work, while 1,012 favoured a strike.

A ballot among the Barrow shipbuilders and engineers on the hours question resulted in 3,378 favouring a 40-hour week, and 3,353 a 44-hour week, while 3,783 favoured negotiating to obtain shorter hours, and 1,774 favoured a strike.

London, February 9th.
The early morning trains on the suburbs, on the London-South Western Railway, have not left Waterloo, owing to the non-appearance of the drivers.

London, February 9th.
The Trade Union leaders are contemplating strong action for dealing with the revolutionary movement which led to unauthorised strikes.

The lead has been taken by the Amalgamated Society of Engineers, whose Executive has suspended the Society's District Committees at Belfast, the Clyde, and London, for violating the Society's rules by participating in unauthorised strikes.

Furthermore, the negotiating Committee of the Engineering and Shipbuilding Trades yesterday issued a warning to its members in Belfast, Glasgow, and the North-East Coast urging them to resume immediately, and pointing out that their stoppage will weaken the efficacy of Trade Unionism and impose unwarranted hardships on loyal Trade Unionists who are carrying out the decision of the ballot vote.

It is emphasised that the threat to plunge London into darkness was not made officially by the Electrical Trades Union, but by the London and District Branches, not because they had any grievances, but merely to demonstrate their resentment at the Government's refusal to intervene on the Clyde and in Belfast.

Another Trade Union, the Electrical Power Engineers' Association, has passed a resolution that the above threat was a blow aimed at the Government, and therefore called upon those of their members who are skilled electricians to do their utmost to maintain the supply of electricity.

A representative of the Association, conferred with the Board of Trade yesterday, and arrangements were made for a supply of unskilled labour to support electricians and guards, and protect the workers.

A meeting of the Executive of the National Union of General Workers, of which Mr. R. Clynes is President, and Mr. Will Thorne is Secretary, resolved that, while approving the desire for shorter hours, the members co-operate loyally with the officials of the Union in the prosecution of their claims.

The Executive of the Labour Party yesterday agreed to approach the Parliamentary Committee of the Trades Union Congress with a view to holding a national conference to consider the industrial unrest.

London, February 9th.
A mass meeting of Glasgow engineers considered the suspension of the District Committee, and passed a resolution of confidence in the Committee.

London, February 9th.
Senator learns that the threatened strike of the members of the Electrical Trades Union has been postponed for at least 24 hours.

London, February 9th.
The engineers of Manchester have declined to strike in favour of a forty-hour week, and have called a special meeting to enquire into the methods by which the agitation for a forty-hour week began.

London, February 9th.
Bus drivers threaten to strike, owing to the refusal to the growing employment of military motor vehicles in transporting people to and from business in London, which has been necessitated by the stoppage of the tubes.

London, February 9th.
The Railwaymen's representatives had a conference with the President of the Board of Trade. The latter made a certain offer which the former are discussing to-night. They are meeting Sir Albert Stanley again to-morrow.

One delegate expressed the opinion that an early amicable settlement will be arranged.

London, February 9th.
The London Railway dispute has been satisfactorily settled.

London, February 9th.
The recognition of the Railway Clerks' Association has removed the menace of a general railway strike.

The announcement of the agreement was received with enthusiasm by the clerks in London last evening, when the Secretary described it as the finest agreement ever made, enabling all station masters and the superior officials to join the Association. He paid tribute to the goodwill of Sir Albert Stanley and Sir Richard Horne and said that the delay in the settlement was not the fault of these Ministers, but was due to the desire of the Association not to do anything to imperil public safety.

The Association always maintained the majority rule in its affairs, and is confident that its members did not favour any unauthorised action.

London, February 9th.
The Press Bureau states:—The President of the Board of Trade has announced that he has agreed with the locomotive engineers and firemen that pending consideration of general conditions of the railway service and the underground train men, they will work in an eight-hour day. Meal time will now be included, but as no resumption of the strike will be given to meet the men's physical needs.

London, February 9th.
The Secretary of the Locomotive Engineers' Union, interviewed, said, that notices were issued last night closing the strike. All will be working early to-day.

The arrangements for a national railway strike, which was fixed for noon to-day, have been cancelled.

Mr. Bramley, who is in charge of the strike, said that if some consideration had been previously given to the physical disabilities of men working continuously, there would have been no strike.

London, February 9th.
The Board of Trade announced that at 2.30 this morning, the Conference of the Executive of the National Union of Railwaymen, and the management of the Underground railway companies, resulted in an arrangement whereby the services will be resumed as soon as possible.

The London Branch of the Electrical Trade Union, last evening, ordered the immediate resumption of work, pending national action.

London, February 9th.
It is still uncertain how the Railway settlement will affect the other movements.

The Electrical Union set continuously in London yesterday, conferring with representatives of the Transport Workers, Locomotive Engineers, Licensed Vehicle Workers and other Unions, and the Electrical Secretary repeatedly came out and announced that the report that the strike has been postponed, and called off, was untrue.

He also denied the report that the strike has been postponed, and called off, was untrue.

Nevertheless, work was being carried on as usual at the power stations last evening, and the action of the Union did not appear to interfere with the comfort of the Metropolis.

There were temporary spasmodic strikes of the electricians in a few establishments, while the engineers, whose London branches recently decided to strike, had till a late hour.

London, February 9th.
In spite of the agreement between the Government and the Locomotive Engineers' Society, the Underground railway will not resume to-day, owing to the decision of the National Union of Railwaymen deciding that the above agreement was unsatisfactory, and ordering their men not to resume work.

They have hitherto struck "unofficially" with the members of the above Society, and they are employed at the power stations, supplying most of the tubes, the latter are unable to resume work.

However, the decision of the Railwaymen's Union has not affected the London-South Western railway and the London-Brighton railway, which are again running.

A FIRE-EATER.

Lord Claud Hamilton, in a speech in London, said that the Government control of railways will continue for two years after the conclusion of peace.

He regarded the labour outlook as serious and attributed the danger to the fact that in the last two years, he has been assuming to the Government money, and to the concessions made, not to argument, but to the brute force of men who never risked their lives for the sake of the glove which they have worn too long.

WRECKERS.

London, February 9th.
The Admiralty announced that the screw 500-ton mine-sweeper Pennarth struck a mine and sank off the coast of Yorkshire on February 4th. Forty survivors were landed.

Tyne trawlers are engaged in rescuing the remaining crew officers and men.

London, February 9th.
The Danish steamer Garnier struck a mine on February 3rd, in the North Sea. One of the crew has been saved; seventeen are missing.

CHRISTIANIA, February 9th.
A Norwegian trawler struck a mine off Høgenæsund. Eight of the crew were killed.

GERMANY.

BREMEN, February 7th.

At the opening of the German National Assembly, Herr Ebert declared that the time of the King had, by the grace of God, gone for ever.

He ascribed the loss of the war to the collapse of Germany's Allies and Germany's own military and economic situation. The German Military Party had been over-confident.

The war had also exhausted Germany's opponents, who were introducing robbery and vengeance into their conception of peace, in spite of the fact that the Allies had achieved their war aims, namely, the annihilation of German militarism and imperialism.

He threatened the Allies with the prospect of Germany not consenting to participate in the peace negotiations.

Germany wanted to enter the League of Nations with equal rights to those enjoyed by the other Powers.

He hailed the decision of German-Austria to unite with Germany.

He urged the workers to realise the necessity of production.

The programme of the National Army ought to be safeguarded the German people and establish a strong Socialist Republic.

A telegram from Bremen states that Government troops entered the town after heavy fighting, and occupied the public buildings.

STOCKHOLM, February 8th.

It is reported from Copenhagen that prior to the occupation of Bremen by the Government troops, Bremen was subjected to a bombardment, during which the old cathedral, the Bourse, the Town Hall and a large number of houses were much damaged.

This indicates that the German Government are reconciled to the idea of losing Danzig.

COLOGNE, February 8th.

The situation in Düsseldorf is nearing a critical stage owing to the resentment of the middle classes against Spartacist rule.

The bourgeoisie, including journalists, lawyers, doctors, bankers, hotel-keepers and shopkeepers have commenced a strike, owing to their inability to get satisfaction as regards the demands for the freedom of the Press.

Public meetings for the establishment of a constitutional Council of Security for public and private property were held in Cologne.

As Düsseldorf is in the neutral zone, troops are consequently barred. It has become a hot-bed for refugee Communists.

AMSTERDAM, February 7th.

A telegram from Budapest states that a big general anti-Ungarian strike has spread through entire Upper Hungary. Those participating are teachers, railwaymen, postal, law court and municipal officials. Work is at a standstill. Shops, hotels and cafes have been closed.

PUNISHMENT OF WAR CRIMES.

LONDON, February 8th.

It is announced that Sir Gordon Hewart, the Attorney-General, informed journalists in Paris that the British view of the punishment of enemy offenders undoubtedly is that the offenders, however highly placed, must be made to suffer suitable punishment, without available delay.

Who precisely are the offenders, what offences will be charged against them, and by what process punishment will be imposed, are questions requiring the most careful consideration.

The Commission on Offences and Punishment is really engaged on the task of criminal investigation. Hence, secrecy is as important as despatch. A great mass of very valuable material has already been collected and sifted, and this is continuing without a pause.

From ill-informed paragraphs, which have appeared in the Allied Press, the opinion seems to be getting abroad that the British delegates are weakening on the question of demanding from Germany the complete surrender of the German Empire, and full preparation for the damage sustained by the Allies.

Enquiry in a well-informed quarter elicited the assurance that there is not the slightest foundation for such a statement. Great Britain, it was added, stands where she did in this matter.

It is practically certain she will find her legitimate demands met by the Commission.

BOLSHEVIKS.

The extent to which the Soviet Government are willing to meet the Entente will depend on their military position.

LATER.

M. Tchitcherine, the Russian Foreign Commissary, has sent a wireless message that the Government of the Soviets are ready to make peace, accept the invitation to the Prinkipo with the Allies.

LONDON, February 8th.

The Commission has already covered one-third of the task, having discussed articles dealing with the motives behind the formation of the League, the objects it will safeguard, its constitution, its chief organs and qualifications for membership.

While the Commission's decisions regarding the articles are provisional, many apparent difficulties have been solved, and a general agreement reached on the principles underlying the whole draft. It is, therefore, expected that the remaining articles will be covered quickly.

LONDON, February 7th.

A communiqué from Paris, dated February 7th, states that M. Kramarov, M. Dmowski and M. Dmowski representing, respectively, the Czech-Slovak Republic, Greece, Poland, and Rumania, took their seats as members of the League of Nations Commission, which, last evening, approved the articles dealing with questions of the greatest importance concerning the positive functions of the League. Half the draft is now covered.

LABOUR SCHEME.

LONDON, February 8th.

A communiqué from Paris, dated February 8th, states that the International Labour Legislation Commission met this afternoon.

The general discussion of the British scheme was resumed and brought to a conclusion.

A statement was also read on behalf of the American Federation of Labor.

It is officially stated that the International Labour Legislation Committee met on February 4th. Mr. Samuel Gompers presiding. Mr. G. N. Barnes and M. Colard, the French Labour Minister, were elected Vice-Presidents.

The Committee decided to take, as the basis of discussion, the British Delegates' draft convention for the creation of a permanent organisation for the international settlement of labour conditions.

A general discussion was begun. The meeting adjourned until February 10th.

BIGGEST QUESTION BEFORE THE CONFERENCE.

PARIS, February 1st.
A Havas message states:—The manifest readiness of the great Powers to make sacrifices enables them to exercise, with efficiency, greater discipline, when necessary, over the smaller and younger Republics, and forms the solution of two important questions.

It renders easier the solution of the French claims to territory close to the Rhine Settlement.

A SOLUTION OF CRUCIAL PROBLEMS.

PARIS, February 1st.
A Havas message states:—No new developments have arisen as to the suggested meeting at Prinkipo. It is likely that there may be a general sigh of relief if it does not take place.

The question of Russia is the biggest and the most important one before the Conference.

LONDON, February 7th.
February 7th, states that the International Labour Legislation Commission discussed the representation which should be given to the Governments and the organisations of employers and work people in the proposed permanent International Conference.

It was resolved that women will be equally eligible with men as delegates to the Conference.

It is understood that the question of the "Freedom of the Seas" will be left to the League of Nations.

A communiqué from Paris, dated February 6th, states that the representatives of the great Powers met this afternoon, when Emir Feisal, the son of the King of the Hedjaz, presented the case of the Arabs.

PARIS, February 1st.
A Havas message states:—French opinion is inclined to believe that there was considerable misunderstanding over the misnomer of the word "internationalisation." This word is unfortunate, as everybody at the Conference knows that the majority of the attempt at internationalisation have not worked satisfactorily. The word which should have been used is "mandatories."

PARIS, February 7th.
With the departure of Mr. Lloyd George on February 8th, and President Wilson on February 13th, a period of intensive work will begin in the Commission, with a view to preparing material against President Wilson's return.

During Mr. Lloyd George's absence, Lord Milner will be one of the British delegates.

It has now been decided that General Botha will not go to Poland. He will remain in Paris in connection with the Czech-Slovak question. General Carton de Wiart probably replaces General Botha on the Polish Mission.

A high British authority interviewed by Reuter's representative forecasted the conclusion of peace in mid-summer. He said there were many things on which an agreement had not yet been reached, but very few on which the Conference was not nearer to agreement.

He hoped that during the coming full active work, the Council of the great Powers will be able to effect a settlement of the difficulties of the various parties, for instance Italy and Greece, and Italy and Yugoslavia, so that they may come to terms without an intermediary.

CZECHO-SLOVAK STATE.

PRAHA, February 5th.—The demands of the Czech-Slovak Republic, which the Supreme Allied Council heard today, include the formation of a State with a population of about 13,000,000, generally within the boundaries of the ancient Kingdom of Bohemia.

The Czech-Slovak Republic consequently claim the whole of Bohemia, Moravia and Slovak Silesia. They will also re-adopt the Ruthenes dwelling on the left bank of the Upper Tisza if the latter so desire, and propose to join their territory to that of the Jugoslavians.

Thus, the Germans would be definitely cut off from the Orient and the new Slav States would have more solidarity as they would have points of contact with routes to the sea and to Italy.

The Czech-Slovak Republic particularly demands the internationalisation of the Danube, the Riber and the Visula, and of the Bresburg-Trieste-Fiume railway.

MARINE COURT.

BRITISH SEAMAN SENTENCED.

Before Commander C. W. Beakwith, R.N., in the Marine Court, this morning, John Soderquist, a British seaman on board the s.s. "Bendoren," was charged with the offence of being drunk and disorderly, and wilfully disobeying the lawful orders of the s.s. "Bendoren," between the 1st and 5th instant.

The accused pleaded guilty.

Mr. David T. Calley, master of the s.s. "Bendoren," said the accused, who was an able-bodied seaman, refused to work from Feb. 1. Misbehaviour had started before that date, but he was only charging him as from Feb. 1. Trouble started at Penang on Jan. 26. On the way to Hongkong, the accused turned to for breakfast half an hour after the others and steadily refused to work. Witness entered this occurrence in the log book and when the entry was read out to the accused, he said he did not care, he wanted to be sent to jail when they arrived at Hongkong. The ship came into port yesterday and witness had the accused charged.

Replying to his Honour, the witness said excepting for one man having deserted at Singapore, he had had no trouble with other seamen. Witness thought the accused was the ringleader.

The accused said he refused to work because he had been struck by the Chief Officer. He had complained to the Captain.

The Captain said the complaint was really made to him after the trouble. The accused gave that as an excuse for his misbehaviour. He had questioned the Chief Officer as to the truth of the allegation and the "Chief" denied that he struck the accused.

The accused said he was badly marked by the "Chief."

Captain: The marks were caused by another seaman with whom the accused caused trouble.

Accused: I was marked, but the "Chief" marked me ten times worse.

The Captain repeated that the accused had said he wanted to be sent to jail when the ship arrived at Hongkong.

Accused: No matter what I did, I was always in the wrong, so I thought it was no use. I want to get out of the ship. I might as well be in jail as be in her.

J. Robertson, Chief Officer, corroborated the Captain's evidence that on Feb. 1, the day the ship left Singapore, the accused caused trouble. The accused had had a fight on board that morning. When witness saw him about an hour afterwards, he was bleeding. Witness told him to go to the wheel but the accused refused. Witness threatened to have him locked up and the accused said: "You can do what you like. I want to go to jail." Witness did not strike him. He only held the accused by the collar and he lay on the floor and howled.
